At the first meeting, the concept of the NAERG will be introduced; a draft document will be presented at the second meeting. The NAERG will supersede the 1993 Emergency Response Guidebook (ERG) and will encompass information from both the U.S. Department of Transportation's 1993 ERG and Transport Canada's Initial Emergency Response Guide 1992. The development of the NAERG is a joint effort involving the transportation agencies of the United States, Canada and Mexico. This notice solicits comments on the development of the NAERG, particularly from those who have used the ERG during hazardous materials incidents.

DATES: Public Meetings. The first public meeting will be held on September 21, 1995, in Room 332, Federal Trade Commission, 6th & Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, DC 20580. The second meeting will be November 8, 1995, in Room 8236 of the Nassif Building, 400 Seventh Street S.W., Washington, DC 20590-0001. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The Federal hazardous materials transportation law, 49 U.S.C. 5101 et seq., empowers the Secretary of Transportation to issue and enforce regulations deemed necessary to ensure the safe transport of hazardous materials. In addition, the law directs the Secretary of Transportation to provide law enforcement and fire fighting personnel with technical information and advice for meeting emergencies connected with the transportation of hazardous materials.

The Emergency Response Guidebook was developed by RSPA for use by emergency services personnel to provide guidance for initial response to hazardous materials incidents. Since 1980, it has been the goal of RSPA for all emergency response vehicles, including fire fighting, police and rescue squad vehicles, to carry a copy of the ERG. To accomplish this, RSPA has published five editions of the ERG and has distributed over 4.9 million copies to emergency services agencies, without charge.

The NAERG is being jointly developed by RSPA, Transport Canada and the Secretary of Communication and Transport of Mexico. The NAERG will supersede the 1993 ERG and will be published in English, French and Spanish for use by emergency response personnel in each of the three North American Free Trade Agreement countries. Publication of the 1996 NAERG will facilitate transport of hazardous materials through North America and increase public safety by providing consistent emergency response procedures to hazardous materials accidents and incidents in North America. In order to continually improve the ERG, RSPA actively solicits comments from interested parties, especially those who have used the ERG during hazardous materials incidents. RSPA will continue to use a network of state agencies to distribute the NAERG to state and local emergency responders.

Request for Comments

Comments are solicited on ERG user concerns and on the following questions:

1. Has the National Response Center (NRC) provided accurate and timely assistance to emergency responders during hazardous materials incidents?

2. Have emergency responders experienced a problem of inconsistent guidance between the 1993 ERG and other sources of technical information? If so, in what way could the NAERG be revised to reduce this inconsistency?

3. Have emergency responders experienced confusion or difficulty in understanding the scope or purpose of the 1993 ERG? If so, in what way could the NAERG be revised to reduce this difficulty?

4. Have emergency responders experienced confusion or difficulty in understanding the application of the 1993 ERG? If so, in what way could the NAERG be revised to reduce this difficulty?

5. How could the "Table of Initial Isolation and Protective Action Distances" or its introduction be made easier to comprehend and use?

6. In the "Table" does the distinction between day and night protective action distances add useful information for the first responder? How could the distinction be improved?

7. Should the guidebook in any way describe materials which emit poisonous vapors when spilled in water? If so, what format would be best?
